

Tamsyn shocks the world

FIVE months out from the Beijing Olympics and Tamsyn Lewis has shocked the athletics world and raced into medal contention.

Lewis yesterday celebrated her greatest career win by taking out the 800m indoor championship in Spain.

"I crossed the line and just couldn't believe it. I was shell-shocked. I was stunned and so emotional and right now I still can't believe it," she said.

But her win failed to impress Australian track legend Raelene Boyle.

